Matthew Whitman Lazenby, third generation owner of Bal Harbour Shops, hosted an intimate candlelit dinner with VIP friends Naeem Khan, Walid & Susie Wahab, Lara Shriftman, Stephanie Sayfie and Anthony and Alina Shriver. The meal took place at the luxury outdoor shopping destination's center courtyard and was held to celebrate the 50th anniversary and redesign launch of BalHarbourShops.com.

The dinner marks the first of many special events to take place throughout the year to celebrate Bal Harbour's golden birthday. Next month, Bal Harbour Shops and London-based curator and exhibition-maker Judith Clark will introduce Fashion Project, a unique space for projects and programs which are devoted to design, innovation and, of course, fashion.
